

BIG CARNIVAL FOR RHINELANDER

Council By A Unanimous Vote Grants Permission For Use Of The Streets

At a special meeting of the common council held Saturday night that body by unanimous vote of all aldermen present granted the use of the streets for carnival purposes next week to the Wortham & Allen Shows.

The above named amusement enterprise will state for the benefit of our readers, is a carnival company carrying eighteen attractions, two bands of music and between 200 and 250 people, requiring twenty-two cars to transport it about the country. In addition to the attraction mentioned free band concerts are given daily, afternoon and evening, and two free acts, twice daily, and also a gorgeous display of fireworks each night.

One of the free acts is the spiral tower and ball on which a performer descends, a daring feat which is one of the great feature attractions at Forest Park, Chicago, this season. The second is an exhibition of trapeze and horizontal bar work in mid air on a specially constructed device controlled by this company exclusively.

T. W. Allen and D. D. Dally were in the city Monday making arrangements for the appearance of the carnival here next week. While in the city the gentlemen made this office a call and gave us some information in regard to their enterprise. Starting out at Hannibal, Mo., in the early spring the shows exhibited at several Illinois cities, Beloit and Green Bay, this state, and at Ishpeming, Marquette, Calumet, Manistique and Gladstone, Mich., being at the last named place this week, during the State Firemen's Tournament, the expense for which the citizens and business men pledged $5,000.00.

In all cities they have appeared the Wortham & Allen people have fulfilled their promises to the letter and left with the good will of the citizen in general. At Gladstone, where the carnival is this week, the people and press of the city speak of the shows in the highest words of praise.

It is expected that the special train will arrive sometime Sunday afternoon, in which event a band concert will be given as is customary by the carnival management each Sunday evening if possible.

CONTRACT IS LET

P. F. Olsson Will Erect Concrete Warehouse At Once

Ground is being broken this week for the foundation walls of a new concrete warehouse which P. F. Olsson will erect in this city for the storage of potatoes. The contract for this new structure was let to Sam Perlinier who informs us that the building will be rushed to completion just as soon as possible. The warehouse will be 36x80 feet in size and will occupy a site on Anderson street along the warehouse row, one of the large frame warehouses having been moved to a location west of the tracks to make room for the new structure.

The coming of Mr. Olsson to Rhinelander means much to the future farm development of our country.

A CLEVER TRIO

The La Coma trio which appeared at the Grand Opera House Saturday and Sunday nights in their silent act of acrobatic feats were exceptionally clever workers in their line and the people were very well pleased at their performance. Until recently the trio has appeared only in the larger cities, being out on the Sullivan and Considine circuit.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Spencer of Algona, Iowa, arrived at the home of their niece, Mrs. E. O. Brown, Monday night for a short stay.

BRAKEMAN IS KILLED

Pat O'Malley Is Run Over By Soo Freight Train at Healford

At Healford Jet, Monday morning Pat O'Malley, a Soo line brakeman on an extra freight leaving here at six o'clock, had his foot caught in a frog of a switch while making up his train and was unable to free himself before the train reached him. One of his lower limbs was severed from the body, as he was ground beneath the wheel and the other limb was horribly crushed and mangled.

As quickly as possible after the accident, the injured man was brought to this city by the crew of his train, the run with the engine and caboose being made in record breaking time. He was taken to St. Mary's hospital where he was made as comfortable as possible, there being no chance of saving his life, and at 9 o'clock Monday evening surrounded by his parents, five brothers and a sister, he breathed his last. He was conscious most of the time following the accident and up to within a short time before he died.

Deceased was thirty-six years of age and had lived in Rhinelander for the past twelve years, half of which time he was engaged as brakeman on the Soo road. He was a faithful member of the Catholic church, a member of Hibernians, Knights of Columbus, Order of Owls and also of the Railroad Brotherhood. He had a host of friends to whom his death will cause sincere sorrow.

Funeral services were held this morning at St. Mary's church, the various societies of which he was a member being largely represented.

WISCONSIN THE STATE

What a Man With Experience In Two Other States Has To Say

That Oklahoma is a poor place for the land owner is the firm belief of A. C. Cook of Park Falls, who after an experience in Nebraska went to the southern state and bought land. He now has purchased 320 acres in Douglas county and writes to Park Falls friends as follows regarding his Oklahoma investment:

"One reason I came down here was on account of my health. I thought I could buy a piece of land and then sell it readily if I wished but it turned out so dry that crops were failures, bankers could not collect, neither could merchants, hence it will be hard to sell at present.

"There are insects, bugs and worms to eat about everything while it is growing and weevils and other things to eat the crops after they are grown. Geas, chickens, spiders, gnats and bugs to bite a person and keep them scratching.

"Farmers work harder for a dollar here than any place I have seen in for a long time.

"There is more money in milking cows in Douglas county than in any branch of farming in this country. If we can sell out you will see us head for the north. I believe I could sell land in Douglas county after living here."

DEFEATS BLOOMER GIRLS

A small crowd turned out Saturday afternoon to witness the ball game between the Rhinelander team and the Bloomer Girls. The visiting team put up a pretty fair game of ball playing, doing much better than had been expected by the people who attended the game. The team was assisted by three men players, a third baseman, short stop and a catcher. Ruth Woods, the lady pitcher, handled the ball to good advantage and was a great favorite with the crowd on the grounds.

The score at the close of the game stood 3 to 2 in favor of the home team. From here the Bloomer Girls went to Antigo where they played on Sunday to the largest crowd that has attended a ball game there this year.

ADVANCEMENT ASSOCIATION IS REORGANIZED HERE

Last Thursday evening between forty and fifty enthusiastic businessmen of this city met and reorganized the Rhinelander Advancement Association. E. O. Several addresses were made on the necessity of such an organization and the necessity for its united support by the business men of this city.

The by laws were amended to have nine directors instead of five. The following were chosen: M. H. Raymond, B. L. Horr, Ely, Sterling, Thos. Wood, Sam Johnson, F. A. Lowell, W. A. Brown, R. A. Riek and H. C. Braeger.

Tuesday afternoon the directors met and selected the following officers:

M. H. Raymond, President.
Sam Johnson, Vice President.
R. A. Riek, Secretary.
W. A. Brown, Treasurer.
The following executive committee was chosen: M. H. Raymond, Sam Johnson, and H. C. Braeger. The directors adjourned to meet again next Tuesday afternoon.

MRS. MARY TAGGART

Death Comes After Long Illness To Old Resident Of City

After an illness extending over ten months, Mrs. Mary Taggart, an old and esteemed resident of Rhinelander, responded to the final summons at her home on Anderson street at six o'clock Friday evening. The nature of Mrs. Taggart's affliction was heart disease.

Mrs. Taggart was sixty-seven years of age and was born in Waterford, N. Y. During the early days of the Civil war she was united in marriage with Patrick Taggart at Appleton, Wis. Her husband passed away in this city nine years ago. She was the mother of twelve children, eight of whom survive. They are Mrs. J. H. Darcy of Crystal Falls, Mich., Mrs. Richard Simerson of Medford, Wis., Mrs. Ed. Campbell of Seattle, Wash., Martin Taggart of Ladysmith, George of this city, Manford and Thomas of Pelican Lake and Guy of Superior. Two sisters, Misses Sarah and Bea Golden of Appleton, are also left to mourn. All of those named were present at the funeral with the exception of Mrs. Campbell of Seattle. Deceased leaves twenty-two grand-children and one great-grandchild.

Mrs. Taggart had made Rhinelander her home for the last sixteen years and was a woman highly regarded by all who knew her. Her friends were many and at all times she was ready to lend a helping hand to those in need. Her death has caused deep sorrow throughout the city.

The funeral was conducted at nine o'clock Monday morning from St. Mary's church of which deceased was a devout member. Rev. Dr. Lienfelder officiated. Other relatives in attendance at the services aside from those previously mentioned were James Golden of Green Bay, Leo and Thomas Golden of Appleton, Ray and Allen McGill of Ladysmith, Myrtle and Lester Simerson of Medford.

CAPTURES BIG FISH

Dr. J. E. Shiek was a Saturday visitor at Moen's lake and while fishing there induced one of the large muscallonge that inhabit that body of water to take a chance at his bait. The result was bad for the fish for the doctor succeeded in landing the same after playing it for some time.

BACK TO THE OLD HOME

H. E. Schellenger and son Elmer leave tonight over the Soo line for a three weeks' visit in New York state. They will first go to Norfolk, the boyhood home of Mr. Schellenger and from there to Niagara Falls, Buffalo and thence to New York City.

LOOKING OVER OUR LANDS

C. J. McNeill of Cincinnati, Ohio, is spending a week or so in the city, looking over the farming districts of Oneida county. The gentleman is a former newspaper man and at one time a resident of Milwaukee.

MAY CHANGE LINE

Northwestern Company May Build Several Miles Of New Track

A number of years ago the Chicago & Northwestern Railway Co. had a line surveyed out from Pelican Lake north to a point at or near Malvern seven miles below this city, the same running west of the lake and Monico Junction. At that time it was given out that this line would be built in order to do away with what is known as the "hill run" south of Monico, which is a source of great expense to the company as it is necessary to maintain extra crews to help heavily loaded trains over this portion of road. But the matter was dropped at that time and it had almost been forgotten until this spring when officials of the road and a surveying crew appeared at Pelican Lake and put in several days going over the old proposed route as well as running out new lines.

Should the change be made Monico will be simply a station on the Watersmeet branch, as Pelican Lake will be the junction point instead. Recent heavy investments at Pelican Lake by Chicago parties and improvements to the Beach Hotel property there amounting to $40,000 would indicate that some people "had a hunch" of something good for the future of that burg.

NO AVIATION MEET

Show Is Declared Off Owing To Lack Of Grounds

The aviation meet and automobile races which were advertised for Rhinelander today were declared off owing to the fact that the fairgrounds where the exhibitions were to have taken place were inadequate for the purpose.

The company consisting of aviators and auto racers arrived in the city last Saturday and after sizing up the situation decided that it would be impossible to hold the meet on the field. There was no other place in the city where the flights and races could be satisfactorily given and the show was abandoned. The company left Tuesday afternoon for Ashland where they will appear Friday and Saturday.

The attraction had been extensively advertised and would no doubt have been the means of drawing a large number of strangers to this city from the surrounding vicinity.

GROUNDS IN FINE CONDITION

The abundance of rain this season has been of great assistance in bringing a good growth of grass on the court house grounds, a greater portion of which was seeded last year. The Oneida avenue facing of the block now has a strong sod and with the shrubbery that was set out and is putting on a healthy growth the grounds present a handsome appearance. Geo. Rosemark has been engaged to care for the lawn and takes great pride in keeping it trimmed and looking as neat as possible at all times.

AN INTERESTING EXHIBIT

Lovers Of The Photographic Art Here Are Given A Rare Treat

H. L. Small, W. B. Haskell and G. W. Merrill, representing the Eastman Kodak Co., spent three days in our city, making a display of pictures at the Armory Saturday, Monday and Tuesday, with demonstrations in the various steps necessary to be taken from the time an exposure is made by a camera to the finished picture.

The pictures displayed, something like 200 in number were Royal Bromide enlargements of pictures taken by the various sizes of cameras made by this company, but none from print over 4 1/2 inches in size. The small prints were from all sections of the country, being the best views taken by amateurs and sent into the company and there was a wide range of subjects. The exhibit was very interesting to those who devoted any portion of their time to photography and was attended by large numbers each afternoon and evening.

MAKE FARM LIFE MORE ATTRACTIVE

This Will Keep The Boys From Leaving For The Cities And Towns

Supt. Benson, of the Wright County, Wash., schools found 157 boys out of 164 in rural schools who intended to leave the farm. Three years later he sent out inquiries and found 162 boys out of 174 intending to stay on the farms and be farmers. He also found a large number of city boys who intended to go into the country and become farmers. What did it? The answer is proper instruction in agriculture.

A condition similar to the one discovered by Supt. Benson existed in Wisconsin until recently. In the last ten or twelve years conditions have commenced to change and farmers' children are becoming accustomed to the thought that they ought to remain on the farm.

Even in a new county like Oneida county many boys have left the farms and gone to work in the factories of Rhinelander. While this has been a distinct gain for the city, it has been just as distinct a loss to the country.

When the County Teachers' Training school was organized it was felt by the board and by the teachers that much must be made of country life. As a result as strong a course in Agriculture was required of all students as circumstances permitted. Much seed and milk testing was done free of charge and many articles dealing with agricultural questions were printed in this and other papers.

From the very beginning, therefore, much was made of agriculture. But only girls were reached by this work. As a result, last spring a course was organized for boys and 15 boys took advantage of it. The teacher of the course, has since then travelled over the county holding meetings, helping individual farmers and their boys are enthusiastic in their work.

In addition to this, the 18 graduates of the school have become filled with the idea that the country and the farm are good places to stay in. It is believed that these young ladies will do much to help keep boys and girls on the farms when they go out this fall to put into practice in the schools they will teach the theories they learned in the Oneida County Teachers' Training school.

JOINED IN MARRIAGE

Miss Josephine Nelson of Norrie, Wis., and Harry Slossen of this city were united in marriage Monday evening by Rev. Grant Clark at the Congregational parsonage. They are at present staying at the Hotel Fuller and will commence housekeeping as soon as convenient quarters can be secured.

R. H. Rowe of Waupaca is in the city with a carload of peaches. He hopes to sell them to the local grocers.

PLUMB FULL OF BADNESS IS PLUMB

Local Merchant Attempts To Skip Away And Leave Creditors In Lurch

J. B. Plumb, who since last fall has conducted a fruit and confectionery store in this city, has proved himself to the citizens of Rhinelander to be a very bad Plum (b) in fact even worse than some of the decayed fruit of that kind which he was in the custom of selling.

Mr. Plumb, finding himself getting in rather shady with his numerous creditors, quietly closed his little shop on Davenport street Saturday night and like the Arabs, prepared to "silently steal away". He was in the act of removing some of the furniture, which belonged on the premises, from the building, when the owner of the property nabbed him and turned him over to the officers. Mr. Plumb had the novel (?) experience of spending a night and a day in the county jail for this offense before the matter was adjusted. Upon his release he pretended that he was going to North Crandon and really did go to that village in order to avoid his creditors, not daring to remain here over night fearing arrest on another criminal complaint. But his stay in the Forest county burg was short for it is learned that he left on the next train west for Minneapolis. It is understood that his creditors partly satisfied their demands by taking everything except Plumb's household goods.

Now, this is the brief though spicy history of Mr. Plumb's sojourn in Rhinelander. But, according to reports, he also bears a somewhat damaged reputation in several other cities, including Gladstone and Escanaba, Mich. At Escanaba he posed as captain of the Salvation Army and is alleged to have skipped away with some of the funds of the organization. After this little affair became untangled he next moved to Gladstone, across the bay, where he engaged in the fruit business and after a short career was closed by his creditors. Leaving a stack of unpaid bills behind him he hiked to Rhinelander and remained "in our midst" until the episode of Saturday night.

That Plumb is a rotten Plum (b) no one can dispute after investigating his record and it is hoped that his like will hereafter steer clear of Rhinelander.

This should be a warning to business men of Rhinelander to look up a man's past record before taking him into their circles and confidence. Had the commercial agencies of this country been consulted it might have been different.

LEASE FULLER HOTEL

Mesdames Jackson and Young Take Charge Of Business

Mrs. Mabel Jackson and Mrs. J. N. Young of Saskatoon, Sask., have leased the Hotel Fuller of Chas. Chafee and took possession of the business this morning.

Mrs. Young is experienced in the hotel line having previously been engaged in the business in Canada. Mrs. Jackson is the widow of the late Edward Jackson, a former Soo line conductor who at one time resided at Gladstone, Mich. Both ladies are relatives of Frank Yenor of this city. They are favorably impressed with Rhinelander and believe that they have secured an excellent proposition in renting the Fuller.

Jack Anker has been retained by the new proprietors as manager of the Fuller. He has successfully conducted the house for some time past. He understands the hotel business thoroughly and is one of the most popular and best known landlords in this part of the state. Among the commercial men he is well liked.

MAY HAVE NEW HOTEL

Messrs. Sargent and Merrill, expert hotel men who have had charge of the Palmer House at Fond du Lac for several years, are in the city today investigating the proposition of a new hotel for Rhinelander. They are busy consulting the business men in regard to the matter.

EVENTS OF WEEK IN OTHER TOWNS

Items Of More Or Less Importance Boiled Down From Neighboring Exchanges

Ladysmith—

The pea canning factory here has been a source of great benefit to the farmers of Rusk county who have devoted a portion of their land to the growing of peas. Several of the farmers have realized as high as $32.00 per acre for the sale of peas at the factory. Two cents per pound for shelled peas is the price paid this year.

Washburn—

There will be no speed program at the Bayfield county fair at Iron River this fall. This was decided at a recent meeting of the association board. This action has caused great disappointment to lovers of the sport in this city and many, it is said, will withdraw their support as a result of such action.

Hurley—

Following the destructive fire of two weeks ago, when six of the business places were destroyed by fire that for a time threatened the whole place, the town board has passed an ordinance fixing fire limits in Hurley. Heretofore almost any sort of building has been allowed, and the outcome of it has been a bad fire every year or two. One life was lost in the recent blaze.

Antigo—

The prospects of the Wisconsin & Northern railroad being built into this vicinity look very encouraging at present. General Manager Hartley has been here endeavoring to close deals for land on the proposed right-of-way between here and Neopit. While the probabilities are that the line will not built this year, the plans for the work will be so far advanced that the work can begin early in the spring. Mr. Hartley is enthusiastic about the rich territory which will be opened up by the proposed line.

Ashland—

Dressed as a man, in company with two young men, one of whom claimed to be her brother, Miss Gladys Haley was picked up by the police in the railroad yards here Saturday. The trio claimed they came from Arbor Vitae where the young men had worked in the saw mill. Growing tired of the village the two lads decided to see some of the country and induced the girl to go along. They were given a meal at the city jail and ordered out of town.

Wausau—

As a result of the damage wrought by the recent flood here in the destruction of four of the city's bridges some radical changes will likely be made in the street grades at the approaches to the new bridges that will be built. At the meeting of the council a committee was appointed to ascertain and report on the matter at coming meeting. In the meantime all traffic from the east to the west side of the city must go over the one bridge that remains intact during the ravages of the flood.

Crandon—

The erection of a modern up-to-date opera house for this city seems likely, if present plans do not miscarry. The building will cost about $10,000 and will be built by local capital. The place at present has practically no suitable hall for travelling show companies and it is believed that fair returns can be made on an investment of the amount stated in a theater.

New London—

The flood damage here will amount to thousands of dollars, the manufacturing firms and the city being heavy losers, as well as the Northwestern railroad company. All business has been at a stand still since Saturday when the dam above the city went down, letting a great volume of water down, flooding the lower portion of the town.

Appleton—

J. Gray, a former Antigo resident, was awarded damages in the amount of $8,000.00 in court here against the Chicago & Northwestern road. He was injured while at work in a cinder pit at Antigo, the jury holding that the company was liable for the act of its engineer in failing to obey orders on approaching the pit.

Ironwood—

F. D. Sullivan, who has been manager of the electric light, water and street railway company at Ironwood, since the Appleyard interests bought out E. D. Nelson, has started suit against A. E. Appleyard and his interest in the Ashland Light and Power Co. and the Gogebic & Iron Cos. Ry. and Lighting Co. for a one-third interest in the profits of these companies, claiming that he had an understanding with Appleyard to this effect. Sullivan was let out of the concern as manager at Ironwood several months ago. The suit is attracting much attention and a number of Ashland's leading law firms are retained by the parties to the suit.

NEW DESIGN FOR COIN

The design of the five cent piece will be changed in the not very distant future, as the present design does not meet with the approval of the Treasury Department. Secretary MacVeagh has decided to replace the Goddess of Liberty on the face of the coin with a Buffalo and the reverse side of the nickel will have the head of an Indian.

POTATO PEST IS IDENTIFIED

The Black Bugs Here Are Known As Blister Beetles

Many of the potato growers have reported the appearance of a black or slate grey insect about a half an inch long and an eighth of an inch wide. This insect attacks the potato vines and numbers of them have done a great deal of damage in the county so far this season.

The beetles in question are the so-called blister beetles, being closely related to the variety which is dried and used in making blister plasters. Their life history is very similar to that of the potato bug. The eggs are attached to the under side of the leaf and the newly hatched larvae descend to the ground where they mature. The vines are attacked by the adult beetle.

The best remedy for this pest is to spray. In some cases farmers have tried burning hay or straw placed between the rows but this is not recommended as any heat sufficient to kill the beetles is almost certain to kill the vines.

NOTICE

The School Board Convention of Oneida county will be held at the High school building, Rhinelander, Wisconsin, Friday, August 16th, beginning at 10:30 A. M. All school board members are expected to be present. Under Section 46 paragraph 9, Session Laws of 1905, school board members are entitled to wages and mileage. AGRICULTURAL FUTURE BRIGHT

That Wisconsin's dairymen will in the future, produce still more milk and her cheese-makers and creamery men will make more cheese and butter of superior quality is the prediction of a prominent Pennsylvanian, who is familiar with dairying conditions in this and other states. Every year the dairy farmers of Wisconsin send an increasing volume of milk to Chicago, but the amount supplied by them he declared in a recent communication to the editor of Hoard's Dairymen, is small compared with the total amount produced in the state.

Almost one-half of the state is yet undeveloped. The northern half of Wisconsin is naturally a dairying country. Having driven over the old "tope" roads and seen where a few stray clover seeds sown by the woodsmen have made a fine growth by the roadside and in the surrounding forest and underbrush, thus indicating the best possible natural condition for this crop, this same writer confidently believes that this grass loving country will some day be devoted almost exclusively to the production of milk. Dairying in Wisconsin; in his opinion, has received a powerful impetus by its College of Agriculture, its different state associations and by the grand old man of the dairy industry, Ex-Governor W. D. Hoard.

Chris. Roepcke, deputy oil inspector, made a visit to Woodruff Monday to test a car load of oil.

GREAT COUNTRY THIS

Specimens of alfalfa and winter rye grown on the farm of Chas. Gross in the town of Crescent, are on display in the window of the New North office. They are certainly very convincing evidence of the adaptability of the soil of this county for the raising of good crops of alfalfa and rye. And where these thrive the soil is all right for nearly any sort of hay or grain you wish to raise.

TO THE VOTERS OF ONEIDA COUNTY:--

It has been handed to me several times that I did not want the Nomination for Sheriff, but was out to hurt the chances of some other candidate. This assertion is untrue. I am out for the Nomination because I want it and need it and will use only fair means to get it. The other four candidates have always been my friends and I expect they will continue to be notwithstanding that we are opponents. Either one getting the nomination will certainly have my support.

If I am successful in getting it I will expect the same of them. Should I be successful in getting the nomination and election I will attend to the duties of the office personally, will run the office on business principles and treat all alike, will make a clean campaign and throw no mud.

I have no money to put into this campaign and cannot make a tour of the County as I would like to do but I take this way of soliciting your support. Your vote will be greatly appreciated and anything that is done for me will not be forgotten.

Respectfully yours,

B. F. JILLSON.

BABY'S HANDS TIED

MOTHER TELLS HOW SAXO SALVE CONQUERED ECZEMA.

"Last fall we noticed small rough and red spots coming on baby's hands. The skin was very dry and she kept scratching them until they would bleed. We lost a good deal of sleep with her. Finally we took her to the doctor and he treated her several weeks, but it kept spreading until we had to keep her little hands tied and dress and bandage them several times a day they were so sore, and we used everything we could hear of for eczema. Finally our druggist told us about Saxo Salve. We tried it and one and a half tubes has entirely cured her. Her little hands are smooth and not even scarred, and we are so glad to tell others what Saxo Salve has done for us. Mrs. M. Stephenson, Lebanon, Ind."

You cannot do better than to try Saxo Salve for eczema, tetter, ringworm, or any skin affection—we cheerfully give back your money if it does not help you. J. J. Reardon, Druggist, Rhinelander, Wis.

In Dane County alone, the income tax assessment is $100,000. Is it not a very good showing when the stalwarts argued that the tax would not pay the cost of collection? It hardly pays to be a prophet.

NO THIRD TERM PARTY IN WISCONSIN

The Roosevelt or third-term party man will not place in the field in Wisconsin either a candidate for governor or any other part of a state ticket or legislative ticket. They will not run a candidate for congress in any district in the state.

Moreover, they will probably abandon any idea that they might have had of capturing the Republican electoral ticket, and with this course in view they are planning to nominate an electoral ticket of their own and by means of petitions place it on the ball, in a column usable in such cases.

INSECTS RUIN CROPS

Insect and fungus pests are actually reducing American crops by millions of dollars. An effective way to avoid a large part of this and one which pays profits rather than costing money, is to practice intelligent rotation of crops. Further, the proper system of rotation prevents running down of the fertility; it builds up the soil and makes it more productive as time goes on. Rotation for the different conditions of farming in Upper Wisconsin, are carefully explained in a new bulletin by Prof. D. J. Delwiche of the Ashland branch of the Experiment Station of the University of Wisconsin. This bulletin may be had on application to the Agricultural Editor, Agricultural Hall Madison.

VAN HISE'S VERSION

In answer to those who have been trying to place some political significance on the visits of President Charles R. Van Hise of the University of Wisconsin to Governor Woodrow Wilson, and to Colonel Theodore Roosevelt recently, Pres. Van Hise has issued the following statement: "Since my visits to Governor Wilson and to Colonel Roosevelt have been given a political interpretation by some newspapers, I furnish the facts. For a long time, I have been a student of the trust problem as a scientific one. It was this problem that I discussed with Governor Wilson and Colonel Roosevelt. I gave to them the best statement of the trust situation in this country that I was able to furnish. I am equally ready to perform a like function for President Taft or any man in public life who may desire me to do so, regard less of party. My interest in the problem of the trust is purely that of the public good.

"With neither Governor Wilson nor Colonel Roosevelt did I discuss Wisconsin politics.

"The association of my name with another Wisconsin man is due to the accident that he visited Colonel Roosevelt the same days I did, each a Sunday, the only possible day of the week for me because of my work up on the Board of Arbitration between the engineers and railroads."

AM I MY BROTHER'S KEEPER?

During these hot, sultry days of midsummer, has it ever occurred to you dear reader, that there are many, many weak, sickly women and children in the large cities of our country that have no relief, either day or night from the pitiless midsummer heat? And if it has occurred to you what have you done about it? Has the thought merely entered your mind and been dismissed with a little wave of pity for the unfortunate? We were reading recently of the work of the New York Association for Improving the Condition of the Poor and their work in the summer for the sufferers in New York City. They have erected a seashore home at Sea Breeze, Coney Island, where the suffering women and children from the crowded tenements are taken for a few days out of each where they may get pure, fresh air and a daily swim in the ocean. And this enterprise is kept up by private subscription. It is impossible to estimate the good done and the infant lives saved by such a philanthropy as this. While you are sitting on the porch of your cottage on the shore of one of our pretty lakes, ponder awhile on these things and then, if you wish, send a little contribution to help out the work and address it to Robert Shaw McIntire, Treasurer, Room 207, 105 E. 22d St. New York City. Again we were reading of one lady who had a beautiful country home that invited as her guests different poor and needy families for a week at a time and gave them the blessings of a vacation in the country. Are we thankful enough for our blessings and the opportunity for healthful work and a pleasant environment and if we are, are we showing our gratitude in any practical way? Is there not some time during the summer that you each could spare your cottage for the entertainment of some suffering women and children from Chicago or Milwaukee? Is it not possible for several of our people to club together, and, through some of the charity organizations in the large cities, take up this question of furnishing a vacation to those who need it most? Providence has most bountifully supplied us with these blessings of pure air and pleasant surroundings and cannot we, in some way, share them with the needy. "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these, my brethren, ye have done it unto me."

THE FALLACY OF THE BULL MOOSE MOVEMENT

To The Editor:—
Dear Sir:—
There will assemble in Chicago very shortly, delegates from all over the country to organize a new party and for what? No one knows. From the statements given out thus far there is nothing for which they stand that the Progressive Republicans in Wisconsin have not been contending for for years. Many and loyal progressives in other states are connected with the movement because they are disgusted with the methods of their own party. But is the present movement for a third party a wise one? We think not. In the first place its origin is the candidacy and ambitions of one man and that man one who, when he had the opportunity, gave little assistance to the struggling Progressives in Congress or in the Country. The fallacy of the Third Party is in its purpose. A new party cannot be erected around a man but must have as its source and inspiration a vital, energizing ideal, and this the projected movement has not. Consider the man selected as delegates from Wisconsin. Can you find in the list the name of one man who has suffered and died for the Progressive cause? Not one. Practically all are men that are always attracted by the flesh-pots of a campaign. There is plenty of money behind the movement and these men are out to get their share. Are they men of standing in their communities? Are they men whose influence carries weight in a campaign? Judge for yourselves.

A LECTURER'S JUDGMENT

Eugene W. Chaffin, candidate for president on the Prohibition ticket, has for many months been on the lecture platform, for several months in the west.

"I was in five of the six equal suffrage states," said Mr. Chaffin, "and, as far as I could see, public opinion is almost unanimous in favor of votes for women. I think every one of the five—I did not go into Utah—that if the question were submitted again to the men of the state it would be carried by a larger majority than it was before.

"The vote of women in Los Angeles at the municipal election made a great hit. They certainly saved the city from Socialism. General Otis' paper, The Times, which had fought woman suffrage vigorously all during the suffrage campaign, came over to the side of the women after that election and now as ardently supports them as it used to oppose them.

"In Seattle also the vote of women in municipal election decided that election. Former Mayor Gill, who had been reelected by vote of the people, ran again for election on the platform of a wide-open town. He is reported to have said that every gambler on the coast would be drawn to Seattle. 'Business' generally voted for Gill, but the women voted against him and he was defeated.

"I haven't the slightest doubt that woman suffrage will win two to one in Oregon. Everybody there is in favor of it. The Oregonian, which is said to go into every home in the state, and which I consider the best paper in the country, favors giving women the suffrage.

"I am sure also that the women will win in Kansas. Every time I allude to it in my talks it brought a round of applause. Public sentiment there seems strongly in favor of it.

"We are having a campaign for woman suffrage in my present home state of Arizona, and we are going to win there too."

WHY TAXES ARE HIGH

In 1910 the people of this state paid in taxes, for county, city, village and town purposes, $25,034,360.23. At the same time they paid into the state treasury $3,607,929. The state returned to the counties, and to the several school treasuries for educational purposes, $2,287,114.21, and expended the balance for the university, normal schools, new capitol and an addition to the Northern Hospital for the insane. Not one cent for actual state government.

These, in round numbers, are the tax statistics for 1910 in a nut shell: The people paid in direct taxes, $28,660,000; the state administration expended $1,220,000, for the purposes above named, and the several counties, cities, villages and towns expended $27,440,000.

The regular state expenses are met by taxes collected from public service corporations, inheritances, office fees, etc.

The state is not responsible, not even remotely, for "high taxes."

THE HURT BIRD FLUTTERS

We have heard much adverse comment on the income tax law by those who are affected. The hurt bird flutters. It always has been, it ever will be that the men who are fully able to pay the taxes do the most grumbling. Eighty per cent of the tax is paid into the city treasury and ten per cent in the county treasury and only ten per cent goes to the state to pay all the expense of collecting. Then the fact is nine tenths of the income from the tax is used to reduce other local taxes.

When you are told the income will be used to pay expenses of collecting, it is without truth. The state can use but ten per cent of the income for its share and in a later issue we will show this to be ample.

SEEKS THE LIMELIGHT

There are some men in our community who are not averse to newspaper notoriety. They love to see their name in the paper. If it is not put into the local or social columns by the reporter they write articles over their name. This would not be so bad were it not that these articles are usually full of misrepresentations especially if they are of a political nature. So, for instance, there appeared in last week's New North an article signed by a democrat of the city in which he attempts to boost the democratic party by stating that it is opposed to the income tax and other republican laws. Unfortunately for his contention practically all the recent laws of Wisconsin which are worth while are of republican origin. It is entirely too early to assail the income tax law because it has not yet had a trial. Incomplete returns seem to indicate that it will be a complete success not a failure. Even the democratic party acknowledges that. One of its standard bearers, Mr. Karol, is now being taken to task by the REAL leaders of his party for his opposition to the income tax law. The joker of the above mentioned article lies in its closing sentence, "At the same time we believe that an income tax is necessary and will be eventually a success."

STATE FAIR WILL GO TO THE PEOPLE

MANAGEMENT PLANS TO CONDUCT CAMPAIGN TO PUBLISH THE EXHIBITION.

WILL VISIT EVERY LOCALITY

Lithographs, Display Banners, Photographic Collections to be Distributed—Newspapers "Boost"

RAILROADS AND BUSINESS MEN TO AID

Every citizen of Wisconsin will be informed fully regarding the 1912 state fair which will be held at the state park, Milwaukee, September-10 to 14.

The board of agriculture and the officials in direct management realize that the fair is an institution which belongs to the people of Wisconsin. Efforts are being made this year to cause every resident of the state to realize that same important fact, and secure unanimous co-operation that will assure a 1912 exhibition which will excel all those of past years.

To that end an elaborate publicity campaign that will penetrate every locality in the commonwealth has been arranged. Many thousands of dollars will be expended in this activity on the principle that every dollar will return many times its value in direct personal benefits to each person who responds with interest in the exhibition.

Flood State With "Posters."

No region is too secluded to be reached. Twenty-eight thousand sheets of lithographed paper reliably setting forth all classes of exhibits, agricultural, commercial, mechanical and educational, also the great variety of special attractions and amusements will be distributed throughout the seventy-one counties, and forces of men will post them conspicuously. Twelve thousand cloth display banners will be tacked up in public places, including railroad stations, cross roads, creameries and butter and cheese factories. Display horse blankets will be provided for every rural free delivery mail carrier in the state, and 5,000 summer caps will be distributed among drivers of country vehicles. Felt banners of attractive design to the number of 3,000 will be distributed among the younger people.

To interest the thinking public in the homes, traveling sets of photographic views of the fair grounds, also setting forth important resources and products of the state will be put into circulation. The crews of field publicity men will begin their work at once and will be busy for several weeks.

The large business firms of the state will assist privately and also will insert specially prepared announcements of the fair in all matter sent out from their offices. Illustrated post cards, with great variety of fair subjects, to the number of 1,000,000 will be put in circulation.

Transportation companies during the two weeks preceding the opening day will advertise the fair on all trains by distribution of special literature, and at every station.

All Newspapers in Line.

The most important advertising, perhaps, will be done through the newspaper mediums of the state. Pointed news articles will appear in all the Milwaukee daily papers, also in nearly half a hundred state daily papers. The columns of more than 450 state weekly journals will be utilized continuously in the same manner. All of the papers in foreign tongues, German, English, Polish and Bohemian, will aid in making appeals to the reading public. Prepared news matter by the Western Newspaper Union also will be an important feature.

Through the medium of this publicity campaign the fair first will make its appeal to the people, to whom it belongs. Then responsibility will rest with the people of Wisconsin to take an interest in the fair and assure its success.

William McLaren, Milwaukee, is in charge of the general publicity work, and is assisted by Bart J. Rudle, Milwaukee, who has had charge of working out the annual publicity campaign for a dozen years.

BRING THE GIRLS TO FAIR.

Can your daughter bake good bread and make good butter? Let her take samples to the State Fair. Is she clever with the needle and embroidery work? Let her show what she can do at the fair. Wisconsin housewives are unexcelled, and many of them have greatly increased their efficiency by attending the State Fair. Why not give the girls, the housewives of the future, the same chance?

GIVE THE BOY A CHANCE.

Has your boy tired of lifting the old-fashioned farm gate and invented one that is a marked improvement? Let him bring a model to the State Fair. Has he determined not to break his back with the old grindstone and invented a good tread or power attachment? Let him show it at the fair.

DON'T BELIEVE EVERYTHING YOU HEAR

The chap up in the picture there, believed when he heard the "honk," of an old gander behind him, that he was about to be smashed in the back by an automobile. The result spelled disaster to his pall of milk.

And so, if anybody happens to tell you that they can give you as good lumber bargains as we can, you just look around before believing that. Get our prices and see our stock and be convinced that there's only one really right place to buy economically, and that is right here.

Figures talk. So get our prices.

DEATH OF O. D. VAN DUSEN

Was Pioneer Lumber Dealer Of Prentice, Wis.

The following extracts are taken from the Prentice Calumet regarding the death of O. D. Van Dusen, the father of Mrs. F. D. Arnold of this city:

"The funeral of O. D. Van Dusen, who died at Oshkosh Saturday, July 13, was held from the Congregational church in Prentice at 1 o'clock, Wednesday afternoon, the remains having been brought here to be consigned to their last resting place from the city in which he had made his home for nearly a third of a century.

"The services at the church were in charge of Phillips lodge A. F. & A. M., deceased having been a member of that order for many years, his lodge home being at Cambria, the service being in charge of the Phillips lodge by special request of the lodge of that city.

"Oscar Perick Van Dusen was born at Girard, Erie county, Pennsylvania March 21, 1832, and was therefore in his eightieth year when dissolution came. He had been in feeble health for several years and in April it was found advisable to take him to a sanitarium, from which he was fated to never return alive. He was survived by six children.

"D. ceased was married January 14, 1851, to Miss Emeline F. Ensign at Marcellon, Columbia county, who passed away November 11, 1900. The Ensigns were one of the first families to settle in Marcellon.

"Mr. Van Dusen was one of the founders of the village of Prentice. His early life was spent in Col umbia county where he came at the age of 15 years and engaged in farming and the grain business. He moved to Dorchester in 1877 and entered the saw mill and lumber business, remaining there until 1880 when he came to Prentice and organized the Prentice Lumber company and laid out the present village site.

"He was a member of the Masonic and Odd Fellows fraternities, holding his membership in the blue lodge at the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Cambria, the Chapter at Phillips, Knights Templar at Ashland and the consistory at Milwaukee, and was a member of Prentice Lodge No. 61, I. O. F.

"The floral offerings at the church were elaborate and profuse.

SENATOR JOHN S. DONALD

Mr. Horb, Wis.

REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE

SECRETARY OF STATE

Senator John S. Donald comes into the republican field as a candidate for secretary of state and with many friends to support his cause. As a legislator of several years' experience he has won a wide acquaintance. No cleaner, purer, fairer man will be presented to the people for any office next year in this state. That, in short, is an intimate home estimate of this worthy citizen.

DEWEY GARDINIER MARRIES

A wedding beautiful in its simplicity was celebrated Friday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Haisell, when their daughter, Miss Anise Led yard Haisell was married to Mr. Dewey Francis Gardinier. Although the wedding was a quiet home event, with only the relatives and a few close friends of the two families present it was of especial interest in fashionable circles here, where the bride and groom number so many friends.—Laurel, Miss., Argus.

Mr. Gardinier was born in Rhinelander and moved with his parents to the south a number of years ago. He has a large circle of young friends in this city.

Queer Way of Fishing.

A curious mode of fishing is in vogue at Cochbin, South India. The large nets are let down into the water on bamboo cranes and then suddenly hoisted up by means of an arrangement of weights and pulleys. The catch principally consists of large prawns. The fishermen are of a low caste, known as Malars. They eat pork, and each man has a small plot of rice by the riverside which provides him with sustenance when the fishing is slack.—Wide World Magazine.

Dikes Felled a Conquest.

The University of Leyden in Holland was founded in 1575 as a monument to the gratitude for the nation's deliverance from a foreign enemy. The Spaniards invaded the Dutch country in 1574 and laid siege to the town of Leyden, but the people held out and refused to surrender. The tactful puncture of one of the dikes saved the nation, driving the Spaniards away.

Most Powerful Poison.

The most powerful poison known is reported to have been extracted by a German chemist from the seeds of the ricinus, the familiar castor oil plant, and has been attracting much attention on account of its remarkable properties. Its power is estimated to be so great that a gram—about a thirtieth of an ounce—would kill a million and a half guinea pigs.

Playing Chess

"What's in the box?" asked the girl in pink. The young man with the high forehead smiled at her. "I'm going to teach you chess," he announced. "I brought over the men."

"Why, how perfectly lovely!" cried the girl in pink, immediately pulling off the cover. "I know I'll be just crazy about it! Aren't they cunning?" "I'm glad you're pleased," said the young man in a gratified tone. "I was afraid you wouldn't want to learn or would be bored. Few women care about chess. It's really a great game!"

"The idea of not caring about it!" exclaimed the girl in pink, spreading out the board. "I know it's so different. Why, the other girls will simply die of envy when I tell them I can play chess! It sounds so intellectual!"

"Now, we'll set up the men," announced the young man with the high forehead.

"Oh, they're not all alike, are they?" she continued in surprise. "How funny! I should think that would mix you up dreadfully! Don't you think it would be lots easier to play if they were all alike? I heard of a man who could play six games of chess at once—let's try it!"

The young man coughed. Well, I have men for only one game," he said. "Maybe it would be better just at first not to try any more!"

"All right," agreed the girl in pink, cheerfully. "Only I think it would be loads of fun to have six games at the same time. Then we could walk around among them. I get awfully tired sitting still—do you? I guess it's because I have nerves. My mother's sister—"

"Now I'll move this one," said the young man. Then he explained the moves to her and finally said: "It's your turn."

"I think it is perfectly absurd not to let them all move alike!" she cried. "It just mixes you up! Is that really the way you have to play or are you just trying to fool me?"

"I'm not smart enough to make it up," said the young man. "Men more brilliant than I invented the moves hundreds and hundreds of years ago."

"Well," said the girl in pink indignantly, "if they've been playing it so long I should think they would have straightened it out and simplified it before now. You move 'em all alike when you play checkers and you know what you are doing! If this thing's a queen why isn't there a crown or something on it, and for these horses that turn corners—how perfectly ridiculous!"

"You'll understand it after you have played it a while," said the young man. "I'd move that one to start with if I were you."

"All right," said the girl in pink. "I'd rather shoot this one down the black squares, though. It's so funny to see it go crisscross instead of straight ahead—"

"But you can't," said the young man. "Your bishop can't move because that pawn is in the way!"

"I don't think a little pawn ought to count when it's a bishop that wants to get by," said the girl in pink, argumentatively.

"Now I'll move this," said the young man, firmly. "You see, it threatens your queen."

"I don't see why that is so awful," said the other. "Oh, you say the queen is the most valuable of all because it moves farther and in every direction? Oh, Arthur! I saw Marie downtown today and what do you suppose she told me? You'll be surprised! You'd never guess—"

"You can't move that way," said the young man. "This isn't dominoes or checkers—the idea isn't to take all your opponent's men!"

"Well, what is the idea?" demanded the young woman. "In checkers you try to take 'em and—oh, to checkmate the king, you say? Well, I'd like to know how I can get anywhere near your king when you've got him on the back line with all those other things stacked up in front of him—you ought to move 'em' out. What's that thing? A castle? How silly! It doesn't look any more like a castle than I do! If it's a castle, why doesn't it look like one?"

"I'm afraid," suggested the young man, "that chess doesn't appeal to you! Perhaps we'd better stop playing!"

"Why, I'm perfectly crazy about it!" insisted the girl in pink. "I think it is terribly interesting and I'm so glad I've learned how! And I don't see anything so awfully hard about it either! But it makes my head ache a little, so let's play authors for a change!"

Dolls Always Known.

History fails to tell us the inventor of the doll, which has been such a boon to mankind, not only in quieting the rowdy youngster, but in stimulating a healthy imagination and affection. Five hundred years before Christ little girls had dolls; there is sure evidence of it, and Edward Lovett, an enthusiastic collector, has a doll from those dim ages. It is little more than a battered stick now, but is unmistakably a doll. No one could name a fair value for such a prize, which stands out as a proof that the child of today is singularly like her little sister some twenty-five hundred years ago.—Dundee Advertiser.

DAIRY PRODUCTS BY TONS AT FAIR

WISCONSIN CREAMERY EXHIBITION SETS STANDARD FOR THE WORLD.

GOOD PREMIUMS OFFERED

Experts Officiate as Judges and Highest Standards of Gradation Always Prevail.

LARGE MACHINERY DISPLAY

More than 25,000 pounds—nearly 13 tons—of butter and cheese will be on exhibition at the Wisconsin State Fair. Also in the dairy department will be exhibited sufficient machinery to give that section the appearance of a foundry warehouse.

Wisconsin is the greatest dairy state in the Union. As a matter of undisputed fact, the tract between the upper Mississippi valley and Lake Michigan is the greatest dairy district in the world—and that tract belongs almost entirely to the Badger state.

Exhibit Will Be Unexcelled.

With such conditions existing, the dairy exhibit at the fair should be the greatest in the world. For many years it really has been recognized as the world's best. Dairy men and experts from all parts of the world have been coming to Wisconsin, and the Wisconsin State Fair, to learn. Not only are the finest dairy cattle on the globe raised in this state, but the most highly skilled men in butter and cheese making live here. Also the greatest school of the dairy industry is maintained in this commonwealth, in connection with the agricultural department of the university.

Each year the dairy department has shown marked growth. Quantity of display is assured by existing conditions in the state. Quality is demanded by both the officials of the fair and the dairymen who will exhibit. Unusual interest is manifested this year, and the exhibit in September will be larger and better than any before.

The dairy machinery exhibition also will be much larger than heretofore. So great is the demand for exhibition space that the board has decided no exhibits other than dairy products and machinery shall be allowed in the dairy building.

Classes are provided for every variety of both American and foreign cheese. Judgments will be according to the standards established by the Chicago and New York markets. Cheddars, Flats or Daisies, Young Americans, Longhorns, Drum Swiss, Block Swiss, Brick, Limburger, Printz, Cottage, Edam and many other varieties will be included. Creamery and dairy butter, milk and cream will be adjudged.

Good Premiums Offered.
The greatest value to the exhibitor will be from an educational point of view. In addition, however, more than $3,000 in premiums will be awarded. The American Holstein-Friesian association will award a silver cup to the exhibitor winning the highest score on dairy butter from a registered Holstein-Friesian herd.

The dairy department is in charge of Math Michels, Peebles, Wisconsin, who is making a special personal effort in the interest of the exhibit this year. The judges are the best procurable, having been selected from the agricultural department of the University of Wisconsin, the United States department of agriculture and from the most highly reputed creameries of the country.

The Lighthouse Keeper

Every third month a broad-shouldered, square-built man promenaded along the quays of the little fishing village on the island of Pelworm. He was dressed in a black Prince Albert coat, white vest and stovepipe hat when he walked along the quays, but when he disappeared he took up his vocation of attending the lighthouse on Bishop's rock.

Why he had entered this branch of the government service I have never been able to find out. Now, at the age of forty-nine, he was filled with a horror of the sea, and the Prince Albert coat, which he wore during his week off, he put on as a protest against his work. Nothing gave him more pleasure than to be taken for a drummer. Ziegler was his name.

"The sea is as smooth as a polished floor," he said to me one day when we were sitting together on the shore looking westward to where the lighthouse was dimly visible against the sky, "but the sea is treacherous."

Around Bishop's rock there are undertows, currents and eddies, which nobody knows. Fortunately I have only one more winter to spend there, though it would be just like my luck if the old tower should blow down this winter in a storm from northwest."

He voiced the general opinion of the islanders. The former lighthouse had been swept away by the waves, and although the new one had been standing for several years, every one knew that a fog-horn situated sixty feet above the rock had been carried away by the foaming waves during a stormy night.

Ziegler trembled and stood up. "Thank the Lord, I have only one more winter to spend out there," he said.

"And then?" I queried.
"Then I am to be transferred to the North Foreland lighthouse and will be able to live ashore with my wife and boy. By the way, I wanted to speak to you about Leopold. He will soon finish school, and what are we to do with him then? Come along home with me and have a chat with my wife and the boy."

Fran Ziegler was a red-cheeked, burxom matron, whom no one would suspect of morbid ideas, but she, nevertheless, shared her husband's horror of the sea.

"It seems a miracle that it has not blown down," she said, "for it looks to me like a challenge to God."

Then we talked about the boy and his prospects.

"I hope to meet you next year," I said when I left. "I shall call on you in your new home, Ziegler."

"If the lighthouse does not topple over this winter," he replied.

The lighthouse did not topple over that winter, but Ziegler was not transferred to North Foreland light. Two years passed before I returned. But one day in spring I once more visited the island, and my first walk took me through the little cemetery. A new tablet in the wall caught my eye. I read the inscription. It said that Ziegler had died the year before on Christmas night. Of his death the inscription gave no information.

I walked slowly toward the little fishing village and involuntarily I turned my steps toward the signal house on the cliff. I was so filled with thoughts of Ziegler that I was not at all surprised to find his wife there, staring toward the lighthouse as of old.

"I had heard nothing about it," I said as I shook her hand.

Then she told me how her husband disappeared.

On Christmas eve the light was to have been lit at four o'clock, but the minutes passed and at half past the Bishop's rock was still dark. On the island people realized that something had happened and the cutter was made clear.

Of the three men in the lighthouse only two were found. They said that Ziegler had taken the day watch while the other slept. He was to call them a little before four, but when they woke up it was dark and Ziegler was not about.

When they lit the light they saw that he had made an entry in the journal at 3:40 that a schooner was in sight. They looked everywhere, finally descending the spiral stairway. The lower door was open. From this a narrow iron ladder led down to the little landing.

There was only one explanation. Ziegler must have gone out on the iron ladder, then stumbled and fallen into the sea.

This is what Fran Ziegler told me and I wondered why she should want to go on living here.

She shaded her eyes with her hand and stared across the sea.
"There is the cutter from the lighthouse," she said. "Come down to the harbor with me and shake hands with Leopold. He is third man on the Bishop now."

"You are surprised," she went on as she looked at me. "Do you remember that the last entry that Frederick made was about a schooner? That schooner went ashore on the rocks at half past five that Christmas eve. One man lost his life, the rest were saved. That man was drowned because my husband had not lit the light in time and that is why I gave my son instead. If the Bishop's light goes down this coming winter it is only a life for a life."
